

TAYLOR A. DUNN

UC Irvine, Department of Philosophy ◊ tadunn@uci.edu

FOCUS

---

Areas of Specialization

Epistemology, Philosophy of Logic

Areas of Competence

History of Analytic Philosophy, Logic, Kant, Philosophy of Language, Metaphysics, Philosophy of Mind

EDUCATION

---

Ph.D Candidate, Philosophy

Expected 2023

University of California, Irvine – Department of Philosophy

Research: The normativity of logic, logical constitutivism, epistemic norms, logical aliens

Advisor: Annalisa Coliva

M.A., Philosophy

Awarded May 2018

California State University, Los Angeles

Comprehensive Exams: Epistemology, Philosophy of Language, History of Modern Philosophy

Advisors: Mark Balaguer, David Pitt

B.A., Philosophy

Awarded Dec 2015

University of Missouri

Emphasis in Philosophy of Language, Mind, Metaphysics

Minor: History

Advisors: Andrew Melnyk, Marina Folescu

EXPERIENCE

---

Teaching Assistant

Sept 2019 – Present

University of California, Irvine

Courses:

Puzzles and Paradoxes, Fall 2019

Intro to Philosophy, Winter 2020, Spring 2020

Philosophy of Law, Summer 2020

Argument & Research (Lead instructor), 2020/2021

Technology & Society, Summer 2021

Conference Co-Planner

Oct 2018 – Feb 2020

Archeology in a Post-Truth World – Interdisciplinary Conference at UC Irvine

Graduate Assistant

Sept 2017 – May 2018

California State University, Los Angeles

Courses:

Critical Thinking and Composition, Fall 2017, Spring 2018

Engaged Philosophy, Spring 2018

WORKS IN PROGRESS

---

† Logical Aliens and the Laws of Thought

† Logical Constitutivism and Thought

† Wittgenstein and the Logical Alien

† Logical Constitutivism and Logical Pluralism

† A Reliability Theory of Demonstratives