- 2002 “A Pedophile Father Preferable to Alienating Mother: Parental Alienation Syndrome (PAS) and Israel’s Supreme Court.” Psak Din [“Judgment”, Heb.], Israel’s most influential legal portal and judgment repository. Oct. issue.

This article was used as an expert opinion in the precedential Supreme Court Judgment 6041/02, and from its publication to this date it continues to assist mothers, children, and the attorneys who represent them in cases of alleged PAS. From its publication until 2020 each week about 2-3 mothers on the verge of losing custody of their children in the PAS-afflicted Israeli courts and their attorneys called and sought advice, which I happily volunteered until my heart could no longer bear the suffering of these mothers and children. The article was reissued in Haderech, Women On Line (WOL) and Kedma, It was then reissued in many other portals and after such a large scale exposure, it generated several major research articles in Israel’s print media and scholarly texts.

2002 "Then and Now: Women of Color in the American Elite Academy." Kedma: The Eastern Gate Portal, ed. by Sami Shalom Chetrit. 20 Feb [Heb.]. Re-issued in HaDerech.

2002 "Search the Mizrahi Woman." Tel Aviv Weekly Magazine, 26-27. 18 Jan 2002 [Heb.]. REPRINTED IN 2002, Mizrahi Feminism, ed. by Vardit Damari-Madar. 20-25. Jerusalem: Students for Social Justice (TZA).

Cyber-Reprints in Kedma: The Eastern Gate and HaDerech feminist portal. The article was then lifted from Kedma and copied into many Hebrew language forums at large-scale portals. These cyber-copies generated hundreds of readers' responses.

Its English translation, entitled "Academic Apartheid in Israel and the LillyWhite Feminism of the Upper Middle Class," was e-published first in the English edition of HaDerech. It has since been copied into numerous Israeli and Arab feminist and academicians' internet forums.
