

Tyler Jungbauer

7 Crystal Park Pl., Manitou Springs, CO 80829

(719) 231-9770

tjungbau@uccs.edu

Education

B.A., Philosophy

University of Colorado at Colorado Springs, Colorado Springs, CO, Fall 2023

Summa Cum Laude

Honors Thesis: “A Madhyamaka Critique of Jaegwon Kim’s Supervenience Argument”

Experience

Research Assistant, August – December 2023

University of Colorado at Colorado Springs, Colorado Springs, CO

Supervisor: Dr. Jeffrey Scholes (jscholes@uccs.edu)

Collaborated with professors on their research projects by reviewing online databases to identify sources and compiling notes on various research topics. Edited and assessed professors’ manuscripts for organization, flow, and clarity. Evaluated and critiqued manuscripts’ philosophical content for soundness, relevance, and possible objections. Formatted figures for manuscripts.

Writing Consultant, January 2022 – December 2023

Excel Multiliteracy Center [née Excel Writing Center]

University of Colorado at Colorado Springs, CO

Supervisor: Dr. Matthew Balk (mbalk@uccs.edu)

Evaluated undergraduate and graduate papers from various disciplines to provide relevant feedback regarding both essay-level and sentence-level considerations, including organization, clarity, grammar, and thesis-construction. Designed and collaborated on various workshops and projects relating to themes such as slam poetry and NaNoWriMo. Participated in presentations on various topics, including MLA citation style, peer review, and philosophical writing.

Teaching Assistant, January 2022 – May 2022; January 2023 - May 2023

PHIL 4440: “Decision and Game Theory”

University of Colorado at Colorado Springs, Colorado Springs, CO

Supervisor: Dr. Rex Welshon (rwelshon@uccs.edu)

Assessed student comprehension by grading quizzes. Facilitated student instruction and clarified content by answering student questions and resolving student concerns.

Aided professor in designing quizzes by providing critical feedback. Engaged with students outside the classroom if they requested additional help or clarification.

Editor-in-Chief, August 2023 – Present

Puros undergraduate philosophy journal

University of Colorado at Colorado Springs, Colorado Springs, CO

Revived previously defunct undergraduate journal Puros. Co-wrote submission guidelines, standards of review, and mission statement. Reviewed student submissions for publication and provided critical feedback regarding philosophical relevance and argumentation. Participated in copy-editing and digital publishing.

Related experience

Colorado Summer Seminar in Philosophy, June 2023

University of Colorado Boulder, Boulder, CO

Highly selective summer seminar (20 students accepted nationwide) designed to emulate graduate seminar in philosophy. Attended classes taught by CU Boulder faculty and workshops taught by CU Boulder faculty and graduate students. Participated in classroom discussion on various philosophical themes, including metaethics, the problem of political authority, evolutionary debunking arguments for moral anti-realism, relation between credence and belief, and others.

Publications

Jungbauer, T. (Forthcoming). Introspection, fallibilism, and Gettier problems. Aperto animo, 2023 issue.

Jungbauer, T. (2024). A Madhyamaka critique of Jaegwon Kim's supervenience argument. Comparative philosophy, 15(1), 67–96. <https://scholarworks.sjsu.edu/comparativephilosophy/vol15/iss1/8/>

Jungbauer, T. (2023). Buddhism, non-human animals, and selfhood. Manuscript submitted for publication.

Jungbauer, T. (2023). Against the privileged access of introspection. Manuscript submitted for publication.

Jungbauer, T. (2023). On proposition 6.54 of Wittgenstein's Tractatus. Manuscript submitted for publication.

Jungbauer, T. (2022). Nāgārjuna's refutation of personal identity. Undergraduate research journal at the University of Colorado at Colorado Springs, 15(2), 1–13.

Presentations

Jungbauer, T. (2023). A Madhyamaka critique of Jaegwon Kim's supervenience argument [Conference presentation]. Great Lakes Philosophy Conference (GLPC), Siena Heights University, Adrian, MI.

Jungbauer, T. (2023). A Madhyamaka critique of Jaegwon Kim's supervenience argument [Conference presentation]. Colorado Springs Undergraduate Research Forum (CSURF), Colorado College, Colorado Springs, CO.

Awards and Honors

President's List, Spring 2020 – Fall 2023

Chancellor's Award, Spring 2020 – Fall 2023
$10,000 for four years

Clyde & Eva Monnett Scholar, Fall 2020 – Spring 2021
$5,000

Colorado Opportunity Scholarship Initiative (COSI) El Paso County Scholarship, Fall 2021 – Spring 2022
$2,500

UCCS Faculty and Alumni Award, Fall 2022 – Spring 2023
$2,500

Steven Ellis Award, May 2023
Best honors thesis in Department of Philosophy
$500

Bridge Forward Scholarship, Fall 2023
$2,500

Outstanding Undergraduate Student for the Department of Philosophy, Fall 2023
UCCS College of Letters, Arts, & Sciences

LAS Leadership Award, Fall 2023
UCCS College of Letters, Arts, & Sciences

LAS Commencement Honor Student, Fall 2023
UCCS College of Letters, Arts, & Sciences

Conference Funding

Great Lakes Philosophy Conference, March 2023

Center for Student Research ($80)

Colorado Summer Seminar in Philosophy, June – July 2023

Center for Student Research ($320)

College of Letters, Arts, & Sciences Dean's Office ($250)

Department of Philosophy ($850)

Academic Memberships

International Society for Comparative Philosophy toward World Philosophy