

Eve Athena Poirier

eve.poirier@queens.ox.ac.uk | eve.athena.poirier@gmail.com

Employment

University of Oxford, Graduate Tutor 2026 - Present
University of Warwick, Senior Graduate Teaching Assistant 2024 - 2025
University of Warwick, Research Assistant, Warwick Mind and Action Research Centre 2024 - 2025

Education

University of Oxford, DPhil. Philosophy 2025 - Present
Thesis Title: Disagreements about Reasons and Rationality
Supervisor: Roger Crisp

University of Warwick, MPhil. Philosophy (No Corrections) 2025
Thesis Title: 'Against Mind-Reading Devices: A New Solution to The Toxin Puzzle'
Thesis Supervisors: Lucy Campbell and Johannes Roessler
Course Supervisors: Naomi Eilan, Eileen John, and Guy Longworth

University of Warwick, BSc. Mathematics and Philosophy (1st class honours) 2023
Thesis Title: 'The Creation of the Essai: Montaigne, Scepticism and Self-Knowledge'

Research Areas

Specialisations

Philosophy of Action · Practical Reasoning · Normative Ethics · Philosophy of Mind · Michel de Montaigne

Competency

Ethics · Meta-ethics · Aesthetics · Political Philosophy · Logic

Publications

Academic

'Connecting the Second-Person in Mind and Ethics' (2026), Perspectives: UCD Postgraduate Journal of Philosophy, Special Issue on 'The Subjective and the Objective'

Non-Academic

'Of Shame', Pharos: University of Warwick Philosophy Magazine (2023)

'Montaigne, Twitter, and the Public Diary', (Winner of the Philosophy in the Wild essay competition), Pharos, (2022)

Presentations

Invited:

'Akrasia and Evaluative Judgement: Does Endorsement Entail Motivation?', Warwick-Geneva-Leipzig Conference in Philosophy of Mind, Leipzig, Germany, November 2024

‘Anti-Anti-Empathy: Art as Imagination Under Constraint’, Postgraduate Welcome conference, The University of Warwick, UK, September 2024

Refereed:

‘What Can I Intend to Do?’, MindGrad2026, The University of Warwick, February 2026

‘Can the cognitivist make sense of regret in moral dilemmas?’, Apophansis Journal Symposium, King’s College London, UK, June 2024

‘Regret for doing the right thing? Williams on moral dilemmas and cognitivism’, Warwick Metaethics Workshop, The University of Warwick, UK, April 2024

As Commentator:

Comments on Prof. Matthew Soteriou, ‘Change in Temporal Perspective’, MindGrad 2024, The University of Warwick, UK, June 2024

At the University of Warwick:

‘Naturalism in the Philosophy of Action’, Postgraduate Research Seminar, The University of Warwick, UK, June 2024

‘The Akratic Inference’, Postgraduate Research Seminar, The University of Warwick, UK, November 2024

‘Art, Perspectives, and the ethical importance of understanding wrongdoing’, Postgraduate Research Seminar, The University of Warwick, UK, February 2024

‘Plausible abstractions: the role of fiction, truth, and history in genealogy and state of nature philosophy’, Postgraduate Research Seminar, The University of Warwick, UK, October 2023

Teaching & Service

As Graduate Tutor, University of Oxford

Philosophy of Mind, Spring 2026

As Senior Graduate Teaching Assistant, University of Warwick

Introduction to Philosophy (Logic), Summer 2025

‘Making Decisions’, Spring 2025

‘Philosophy of Evil’, Autumn 2024

Other

‘Montaigne on MEEP (Mind, Epistemology, Ethics, and Politics)’, Warwick Mind and Action Research Centre Graduate Seminar, Spring 2024.

Conferences Organised

Symposium on Bernard Williams’ Truth and Truthfulness, The University of Warwick

2025

MindGrad 2024, Graduate Conference in the Philosophy of Mind, The University of Warwick 2024

Awards and Scholarships

Neda Agha-Soltan Scholarship in Philosophy, The Queen's College, University of Oxford (100% of course fees plus UKRI rate stipend) 2025 - Present

Warwick Philosophy Award for Highest Academic Achievement in the MPhil 2025

Warwick Philosophy Postgraduate Scholarship (50% of MPhil course fees) 2023 - 2025

Winner, Philosophy in the Wild Essay Competition: 'Montaigne, Twitter, and the Public Diary', 2022

Grants and Funding

Expenses paid by University of Warwick and University of Leipzig for speaking at the Warwick-Geneva-Leipzig Conference in Philosophy of mind, 2024 (£550)

Conference Funding for MindGrad 2024: Society for Applied Philosophy (£1409), Warwick Humanities Research Centre (£1000), The Analysis Trust (£450)