

Amir Naseri

Born in Tehran, 05 April 1975
No. 1, 2nd Dr., Kooheenoor St.,
Tehran, 15877 Iran
naseri@dabirinc.com
+98 912 1432490

Married & Father

➤ My External journey in life:

RESEARCH INTERESTS

Ontology: Physics and Metaphysics

EDUCATION

PhD in Strategic Management,

University of Applied Science and Technology Doctor of Philosophy (Ph.D.) and (DBA) (2014 - 2017)

University of Applied Science and Technology Master of Science (MS), (MBA) · (2012 - 2014)

Azad University of southern Tehran

Bachelor of Science (BS), Bio-Electric engineering and Biomedical Engineering · (1993 - 1996)

APPOINTMENTS

Head of the Institute for advance studies on Consciousness

Part time Professor of the Tehran University of Science and Culture, Department of Management, 2017 - present

Member of the Entrepreneurship Expert Council of the Tehran University of Science and Culture

PUBLICATIONS

Book

The Metaphysics of ALL-and-None, Edwin Mellen Press, 2022

Job Experience

Core Blockchain Services, Vienna/Bratislava

Member of Board and Chief Strategic Manager

December 2020 - Present (1 year 3 months)

Innotronics, Bratislava

Owner and President

October 2014 - Present (7 years 5 months)

Dabir Inc., Tehran Iran

May 2004 – present 18 years

Owner and President

Pishro Darman Saz (Neusoft), Tehran

CEO

1999 - 2003 (4 years)

HONORS / AWARDS

Development of several successful products and solutions for Medical industry

Leading and managing medical equipment companies in the Middle East and Europe for over 22 years by manufacturing and distributing of high-tech medical equipment and surgical kits and procedures which lead to creation of multimillion dollars organizations and businesses

Holding the Market leader position of Neuro-Spinal, Arthroscopy, Arthroplasty, and OR imaging solutions in Iran

Co-developing Core Blockchain as the most advance independent blockchain in the world and providing several unique decentralized solutions in hope to make a better future for mankind

➤ My internal journey in life:

My internal journey started with Hafez mysticism when I was at age of 8 or 9 then I had the chance of attaining the rich wisdom of Persian Sufism as complete as possible to the level that it can be considered the mastery in Rumi, Khayyam and Attar Gnostics. At the pick of Iranian gnosis I noticed how deep my ignorance is.

Then I had to understand Buddhism and I noticed it is all about understanding the mind and how to control my own mind so I could add on top of my knowledge a deep understanding of Buddhism and Hinduism.

At the pick of Buddhism I saw clearly it is incomplete too so I turned to the west to study modern philosophy and hard sciences as profound as possible as complete as possible, I found philosophy uncertain and pluralistic so focused more on hard sciences and amazed by Quantum physics; as a mystic I needed to understand physics even better than physicists since physics for me is not different from mysticism; to understand physics one needs to understand mathematics, and I did so. Here my external life as a network manager and engineer has been merged with my inner self as a mystic in search for Him. At last I turned to Abrahamic religions (Judaism, Christianity, and Islam). Then I found myself sunk in Zohar and Kabbalah. It seems I am a Kabbalist at the peak to the level that I can comprehend Hermeticism.

Today at the New Age, if one plans to climb to the peak of clarity, he should not travel to the Himalayas to seek the road in his loneliness there. He should be a high-tech entrepreneur and manage his staff, businesses, and companies under tough situations and feel the clash of civilizations and listen to each one of them fundamentally from the depth of history to the very late edge of technology to perceive and conclude the reality.

And here I see myself as a student studying technical Hermeticism.

➤ Summary

The summary of my inner and outer journey in life is All'n'None theory. All'n'None can explain reality, existence, space, Consciousness, Mind, Spirit, Soul, Salvation, and give us a complete model of creation and deity. Based on All'n'None, I believe:

- The OUTCOME is a manifestation.
- The mixture of Freewill and Determination is the outcome of Reality.
- The mixture of Cognition, Science, and Intuition are the foundation of Wisdom.
- Belief is originated from Wisdom and it is irrational.
- Belief is the origin of Meaning and these two rationally develop "faith on Meaning".
- Faith on Meaning is the basis for Satisfaction and it is the route to Salvation.

Salvation is the outcome of our individual and social life.

Time is just revealing the outcomes.