

Daniel Rueda Garrido

I am currently a Spanish teacher in Nanjing and was a faculty member at Hebei Normal University where I taught Hispanic Studies and Philosophy. I have received my academic degrees from the University of Leeds (PGCE), the University of Nottingham (MA) and the National University of Madrid, UNED (PhD). I have published recently in journals such as tripleC: Critique, Communication and Capitalism (2019), Idealistic Studies (2019), Review of Contemporary Philosophy (2019), Journal for the Theory of Social Behaviour (2020) and Sophia. International Journal of Philosophy and Traditions (2021), and the European Journal of Philosophy (2025), among others. My research focuses mainly on the social ontology (human action and forms of life). My field of expertise is the existential phenomenology of Sartre, and the transcendental philosophy of Fichte & Krause.
